Among those who were at the altar rail to receive the blessing of Bishop Nichols and of Bishop Willis, who stood within the altar space throughout the service, were H. M. Whitney and Robert Ry-

croft. The two hishops occupied seats side by side near the altar during the first part of the service. Lessons were read by Rev. Mr. Tompkins, of Hamakua, and Rev. Canon Kitcat read the prayer service. Rev. Canon Mackinosh presented the candidates for confirmation at the altar rail. The women were robed in white and wore gauze vells. In his address to those whom he yes had compressed, Brahop Nichols spoke of the principles of the doctrine of the Me He said the service was such as would edify not only those also write confirmed, but these who witnessed it. Bayeball crob and it was an opportune moment for colu Polo cub truet people to remember the time when they also knell before a bishop to be received into the church. But there were many who did not understand exnetly what it meant. He said that in discussing the rite of confirmation he was going over familiar ground. The laying on of hands after the example of the apostion is a sign of God's goodness. Some people say they do not see any particular use in the sign as expressed in the laying on of hands. mishop Nichols put the query, Why do people in transferring a place of property, attach a seal to the paper of It was a men of the civil power of the country. The laving on of hands is a sign of the spiritual power. The bichop told an incident in a South American city where a file of soldiers were about to execute a man. An American rushed forward and, wrapping an American flag about the man. dared them to fire. One by one the at length the soldiers marched away. What was there in a piece of cheap bunting and cheap dies that caused the rifles to hold back their missiles of death? In that bunting was a sign, the sign of a great and powerful nation; the bunting, the flag, represented the highest ideals of the nation. It was this sign for which men went forward into battle for their country's honor. Thus it was with the sign of God.

Some people say to a minister that they do not feel good enough to go to God's altar to be confirmed. The bishop said this was probably an honest opinion of one's self, but too often it was an excuse. Should one man say to another that that same man was "no good," it would mean that he was not reliable, had no integrity, did not pay his debts, and, in a commercial sense, was not to be trusted. This was the difference between a man saying of himself he was "not good enough," and others saying it of him. Confirmation did not mean that one was joining a lowship in the church of Christ.

BUSINESS MEN TO GET TOGETHER

Definite plans for the carrying on o the work of promoting an exhibition from the Territory of Hawaii at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be settled upon at a meeting to be held Friday, at which will be represented the Chamber of Commerce, the Mar-chants' Association, the Planters' Aseciation and the Builders and Traders Exchange. This was aranged at the ommittee meeting held at the office of M. Cooke yesterday afternoon, at thick every member of the committee was present except Mr. Cooke, who is still confined to his house. When Governor Cooper called the smmittee to order, there were in the room Mersts. Schaefer, Dillingham, Atherton and Giffard, of the commit-tee, and Commissioner General of the Exposition John Barrett. The meeting was decided to be a private confer ence and the gentlemen began their discussion of what method should be taken for the carrying out of the duties imposed by the original meeting. range of the discussion was wide, there being nothing left uncovered, from the direction of collecting the materials for the proper display of the resources of the Islands, to the personality of the men who may be secured for the purpose of representing the Territory at St. Louis

Commissioner General Barrett was called upon to explain the methods which are now in vogue in the mainland states and territories for the pur pose of raising the funds and getting together the exhibits which will be featured during the exposition. This he did at some length and many questions were asked of him by the members of select club. Not at all. It meant fel- the committee in endeavor to ascertain from the experience of other states just what will be best suited for the local conditions.

The committee then discussed the plans for a central committee of direc-tion. The trend of the talk was that there should be a permanent committee to have the gathering of funds and the collection of the articles which are to be shown. There was only occasionally a remark which might be construed as indicating the scope of the exhibit, the first thing being considered being the matter of the handling of the work under consideration. Matters finally reached the stage of more light being needed, and then upon motion it was decided that the various associations named should be asked to send representatives to the meeting on Friday, when the definite course will be fixed. There will be several questions which will come before the committee and the men of business, one of the first being the settlement of whether or not the members of the central committee shall be elected, and how, and what shall constitute the committee, as well as the general plans for the raising of a fund and the collection of the exhibits. The meeting will be held at o'clock, probably at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

KINAU WILL BE RECONSTRUCTED

The flagship Kinan of the Wilder 10 Company's steamer fleet, will probably 10 start on her 2100 mile voyage to San 10 Francisco about June 1, in command of Captain Parker of the steamer Clauwhen it is necessary to renew portions of the staunch little inter-island boat and the requirements of the commerce of the Islands also makes it necessary that her upper decks be made over

The company has contemplated for some time the sending of the Kinau to the coast to go into the hands of boat the coast to go into the hands of boat builders for repairs and the making of her over to suit the needs of the growing trade of the Islands. It was thought at one time that the Kinau would start on her long voyage in early February or March, but it was decided to wait until the sugar season was over before doing so. As there will be no freight carried on the trip, the vessel can store away all the coal necessary to carry her to San France necessary to carry her to San Fran-cisco without crowding her for speed. It is probable that when she is laid up for repairs the workmen will be engag-ed for several months on her. It is proposed to cut off everything on the vessel down to the spar deck,

25 and then completely rebuild her until the assumes something of the appearthe assumes something of the a ance of the Mariposa on a small The upper deck will be carried com of leaving it exposed as at present.

DENVER ED. SMITH TO FIGHT BROWN

By the Kinau on Saturday "Deaver' Ed Smith received word from the "Kaiwiki Glant" that he was ready and willing to fight him. Smith leaves for Hile tonight by the Kinau. He will be accompanied by his wife. The battle will probably take place on the night of the 17th inst., at Hoo-lulu Park, and Smith will return to Honolulu on the 24th.

"Denver" Ed Smith will be ready to meet Gordan, the Camp McKinley man who recently issued a sweeping challenge to box anyone in Honolulu twenty-five rounds, on the night of May 31. He undertakes to stop him in six rounds for the entire gate receipts. If the artilleryman means business a communication addressed to The Advertiser office will receive attention.
